Chrysalis Publishing P/L was established by Delwyn Freestone in 1993. In the following 10 years over 450 images have been produced by the artists working with the printers in the Chrysalis print studio. Mediums used include etching woodcut engraving linocut screenprint and monoprint.

All works published by the studio of Chrysalis Publishing are original works, created by the artist in the nominated print medium.

Exhibitions are sourced primarily from the body of works proofed and printed in the studio.

Editions are available directly from Chrysalis Publishing and throughout Australia from galleries, framers and art consultants.

The full pricelist, location guide of dealers, artists' biographies, and images of the works available can be viewed online.
